The Sherman Law-1890.

FIRST ARTICLE. The Sherman Anti-Trust law was enacted in 1800. It got its name from the fact that Senator however, entirely changed, the changes being principally the work of Senators Edmunds, of Vermont, and Hoar, of Massachusetts. As finally enacted, it is regarded by experts as a most perfect piece of legislation. The substance of the law is "that every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal." The meaning, in plainer terms, of this provision is that

The reason why it was enacted was that, for a period of nearly twenty years, beginning with 1872, following the example set by the Standard Oil Trust, the business of the country was being gradually absorbed into the control of a few great trusts. Their oppressive and even criminal practices aroused the indignation of the country to such an extent that both of the great political parties declared in their national platforms their purpose to pass laws to destroy these trusts. The purpose of the trusts then extend the purpose of the trusts then extend the purpose of gradually absorbed into the control of a few great isting were the Standard Oil, the Sugar and practiced speakers, so we are all practiced writers, turer has an advertised eding as Woodrow Wilson and making speeches?

A Dangerous Precedent.

Messrs. Ward and Gow control the news stands on the subways and elevated lines of New York City. Recently Messrs. Ward and Gow took offense on political and religious grounds to things which had been published in the Masses, so they have cancelled their contract with the Masses and have removed it from the news stands. Their legal right to do this is more than doubtful, and on grounds of public policy it is a dangerous preceent. When a private corporation which monopozes one important avenue through-which news is distributed sets up a censorship it creates an intolerable condition. If there is to be any centrolerable condition. If there is to be any centrolerable public and official. A seistant Secretary of the Navy Frank-the Naval Committee last week indicated the possibility of prematurity of the naval committee and the Naval Committee last week indicated the possibility of prematurity of the naval committee and the Naval intolerable condition. If there is to be any censorship, let it at least be public and official, firm is of all censors the worst imaginable. We hope the Masses will carry the case to the courts, and that all publishers will support them in the fight .- The New Republic.
